

THE SNO-ROVERS HONOUR THEIR OWN

Last May 18th, at La Forge, the Kap Sno-Rovers Snowmobile Club held a party for its volunteers, landowners and sponsors. All these people contributed to the success of the last snowmobiling season.

The club's treasurer and president, Jim Mangan, reminded everyone that they were there to thank and congratulate each other for another fine season of snowmobiling. Mangan took particular care to underline the work accomplished by the 75 people who volunteered their time to the Kap Sno-Rovers.

Five volunteers were singled out for their contributions. At the local level, Maude and Tim Simard were named Family of the Year and Yvon Côté was named Volunteer of the Year. At the district level (Cochrane to Hearst), Jean-Claude Cormier was named Volunteer of the Year and Jules Lauzon was named Trail Patrol Member of the Year. Cormier and Lauzon were also nominated for provincial recognition but we will have to wait until the OFSC's Annual General Meeting (AGM) in September to find out if know if their nominations were retained.

The presentations concluded with an urgent call for help. Three positions on the Sno-Rovers Board of Directors must be filled at the club's AGM. Mangan encouraged all volunteers to attend this important meeting which will be held on Thursday September 6th at 7:30 pm at the Civic Centre. He reminded everyone that it was important that all positions be filled in order to ensure the club is able to continue offering an unmatched trail system for the enjoyment of all sledders.
